My Scholastic STORY

In our schools across New Zealand, we have so many wonderful teachers and support staff working tirelessly to encourage learning and literacy among our children. We want to celebrate their efforts and share their ideas and stories with you.

When I arrived at my current school five years ago there was no Scholastic Book Club. It was one of the first things I introduced to the school. I felt that as teachers, our job was not just to teach children to read, but to encourage children to become lifelong readers.

The excitement of children receiving their Book Club catalogues was obvious and the ability to get books into children's homes was invaluable for promoting such a love of books. The best part was that the $2 books have meant that every child could afford a book.

Then there is the added bonus of receiving Scholastic Rewards, which we have used to build up browsing boxes in our reading room. Rather than browsing boxes full of old and unappealing titles, we now have full collections of new books as browsing boxes instead. David Walliams, How to Train Your Dragon, Michael Morpurgo, Geronimo Stilton, My Story sets and the list goes on. We have nearly 30 complete collections of books, both fiction and non-fiction, in the senior syndicate thanks to the Rewards we've earned. Novel sets have also been built up.

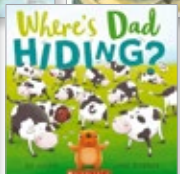

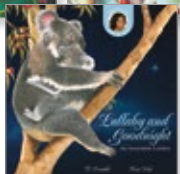

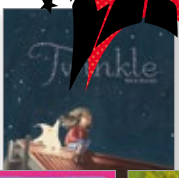

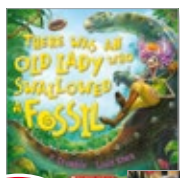

Linda Compton—Waihopai School

We also use our Scholastic Rewards to support our library purchasing and for resources for the junior syndicate. Children are able to request titles that they want to see in our library from Book Club catalogues. They have a real voice into what we use our rewards for. Scholastics Book Club really has given our reading programme the boost it needed.

We want to celebrate exceptional education professionals and share their ideas and stories with schools nationally. If you would like to share your My Scholastic Story with us, please send your story to mystory@scholastic.co.nz.
