NICK BLAND

Nick Bland was born in the Australian Yarra Valley in 1973. He spent his early childhood climbing haystacks and making mischief in his father's painting studio. When he moved to 'the bush' at the age 6, the rest of his childhood was filled with drawing, exploring and playing football.

As well as honing his drawing skills, he found a love of the English language during high school. It never occurred to him to pursue anything else as a profession. In 1996, he stumbled into a bookshop job, and rediscovered the art of the picture book. Untrained, he spent the next few years reading every picture book that hit the shelves and began honing his style as a storyteller and illustrator.

He illustrated several readers before sending A Monster Wrote Me a Letter to Scholastic Press in 2001. Since then, Nick has written and illustrated many titles, including the much-loved, best-selling series, The Very Cranky Bear, which has been published around the world.

Stella knows fifth grade will be the best year ever. Her closest friends, Emiko and Latasha, are in her class and they all got the teacher they wanted. Then their favourite television show, Witchlins, announces a new guidebook and an online game! But when the classwork starts piling up, Stella struggles to stay on top. Why does it take her so long to read? And how can she keep up with friends in the Witchlins game if she can't get through the text-heavy guidebook? And when she can't deal with the guidebook, she can't keep up with her friends in the game. It takes loving teachers and her family to recognise that Stella has a learning difference, and after a dyslexia diagnosis, she gets the support and tools she needs to succeed.

SALES POINTS:

- A very beautiful story about dyslexia, with a very important message about courage.
- The author carefully and gently discusses the frustrations and struggles of a child living with dyslexia, and handles it beautifully with empathy and compassion.
- To make reading as comfortable as possible for dyslexic readers, the book has been lettered in Dyslexie.

SUPER SPECIAL

"Thank you so much for inviting us, Ariel," I said. "I would never have been able to have done this without your invitation."

Ariel smiled. "No, I want to thank you," she said. "This is the first time I've ever had proper friends to bring with me to something like this."

Ariel's eyes were warm and gleaming. Sometimes I forget that when she was a big Hollywood movie star, touring with her parents, before she came to Eden College, Ariel didn't have friends. All she ever really wanted was a normal life. And real friends.

"How about you girls get showered and changed into something comfy? You must be exhausted from the travel. Mom and Dad said we can order room service for dinner, and then we can have a bit of an early night. We have a big day tomorrow!" Ariel said.

We all nodded in agreement. While I couldn't wait to see the sights of Paris, what I really wanted first was a nice hot shower and a long sleep in a real bed!

37

Ambler's car was released from the logjam of traffic and it proceeded across the bridge, which crossed over the Seine River. As the car passed us, we all huddled together so Ambler wouldn't see our faces, but I caught a glimpse of her through the car window.

142

She was on her phone and had a frown on her face. She was distressed and was waving her arms around at whoever was on the other end of the line. Interesting.

Once we'd crossed the Seine River behind Ambler's car, we only had to cycle about five more minutes before we found ourselves outside the famous Musée d'Orsay. Now, I didn't know heaps about geography and things like that, but one thing I did know very well was art. The Musée d'Orsay held a huge collection of famous artworks, including some of my favourite artists, such as Claude Monet. He painted stunning landscapes with really interesting techniques that some people called 'lyrical abstract'. That basically meant it wasn't super-real life and literal. Which was great because I preferred to paint abstract, too. I felt like it was a better representation of what was always going on in my busy mind.

Ambler's car stopped abruptly at the curb and she got out, pulling on her dark sunglasses and Lucretia and her mother have come to tiny Candle Island, Maine (Population: Summer, 986; Winter, 315) with a secret to keep ... and to escape—escape memories of the car accident that killed her father and escape the journalists that hound her mother, a famous and reclusive artist. The rocky coast and ocean breeze are a welcome respite for Lucretia, who dedicates her summer days to painting, exploring the island, and caring for an orphaned osprey chick.

But Candle Island also has secrets—a hidden room in her new house, a mysterious boy with a beautiful voice—and just like the strong tides that surround the shores, they will catch Lucretia in their wake.

With an unforgettable New England setting and a complex web of relationships old and new, this is a powerful story about art, loss and the power of being true to your own voice.

Everyone's talking about Corey Armstrong ...

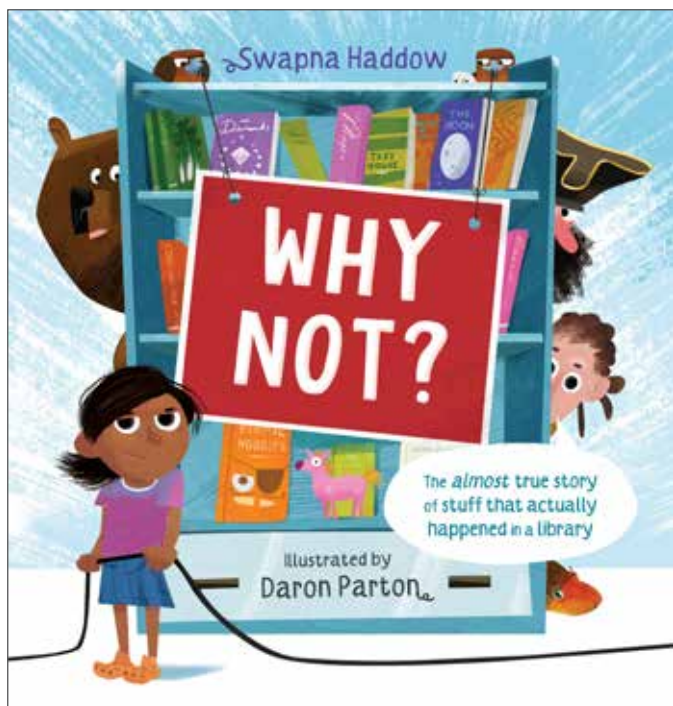

Twenty-five years ago, on a dark winter's night, teenager Corey Armstrong was left to die by a hit-and-run driver on Danger Road. Now Corey's the subject of a podcast that's putting his home town on the map, but with the series almost over, the case remains unsolved.

When brothers Alex and Leo decide to try to find out what happened to Corey, they learn more about his world than they could have imagined. Everyone's talking about the popular footballer, but the question remains: did anyone really know him? As Alex and Leo sink deeper into the past, they uncover old secrets, ready to resurface, and realise that someone in town must know something, which means someone they know might be the killer. Will bringing up the past jeopardise the brothers' own futures? And could bringing a cold case back to life prove fatal?

"Well, you probably won't believe me if I say it's a snake—a huge, child-swallowing anaconda," said the librarian.

A child visits the library with their mum, who tells them to find a book and stay out of trouble. Almost immediately, the librarian warns the child against doing certain things, like climbing the shelves, peeling up the carpet, or taking a particular book. Each time, the child responds with "Why not?" prompting the librarian to spin increasingly outrageous stories.

SALES POINTS:

- Following on from But Then ... The almost true story of an overdue library book, Swapna Haddow has written a companion story, packed with more humorous and exaggerated scenarios that turn an ordinary library visit into a thrilling adventure.
- Kids love tall stories, and this one will not disappoint.
- Daron Parton's bold and energetic artwork brings the chaos and humour to life, making every page a visual treat.

When velvety dark descends, the whole colony wakes and the hollow comes alive with twitching and chittering.

Bats are Aotearoa New Zealand's only native land mammals. This book is set in an ancient forest, and follows Pekapeka, a short-tailed bat, on her nocturnal adventures as she forages for food, evades predators, and plays a crucial role in pollinating native plants, all while navigating the many dangers hidden in the night.

SALES POINTS:

- A companion to Ruru: Night Hunter and Tuatara: A Living Treasure, this book brings the secretive world of pekapeka to life with a mix of lyrical narrative and fascinating facts.
- Rich, detailed illustrations by Ned Barraud vividly capture the beauty of Aotearoa's native forests and the hidden life of its tiny bats.
- Pekapeka is a perfect resource for home, classroom and library, as well as a wonderful gift for nature lovers.

When her grandfather Rex is hospitalised, 11-year-old Ruby retreats to the forest with her trusty dog sidekick and a weird old doll she wants to get rid of. Near the treehouse built by Rex, she discovers a kiwi burrow. And is that a white kiwi chick she sees?

Ruby and her friend Spider uncover a plot by the local vet to catch the white kiwi for an international smuggling ring. Together with a social misfit, who is both ex-convict and nature lover—and perhaps some mystical help from the local patupaiarehe—they manage to expose and catch the crooked vet.

SALES POINTS:

- This well-crafted, compelling story weaves two cultures in an intriguing mystery adventure, spiced with Kiwi banter and humour.
- With trees that hold hands and friends that bridge cultures, the story takes us from deep inside a kiwi burrow to a town where families work together to protect a taonga of Tāne Mahuta—a precious white kiwi chick named Rākaunui, after the full moon.
- Features themes of family relationships, friendship, conservation, mental health and the supernatural.

From best-loved YA thriller author, Cynthia Murphy comes an explosive new mystery! True-Crime obsessed Paige and her family move across the Atlantic to her father's eerie hometown and it's not long before she uncovers the town's dark history—a string of unsolved murders and disappearances in the 90s. And then notes start appearing at their dilapidated old home, about the secrets the house is keeping. The clues lead Paige to a diary concealed in the walls that belonged to one of the missing girls. Could this be the key to solving a quarter-of-a-century mystery, or will this make Paige the next target?!

SALES POINTS:

- Cynthia is one of the fastest growing writing in the YA thriller space. The third biggest-selling author of 2022 in this genre behind Karen M. McManus and Holly Jackson.
- Win Lose Kill Die, another of Cynthia's explosive YA thrillers, has over 5 million TikTok views and counting ...
- Irresistible whodunit storytelling that is ideal for viewers of Stranger Things and classic slasher movies.
- This pacy thriller will keep you awake and guessing until the very last page.

Evie is heartbroken and betrayed when a video of her confronting her cheating ex-boyfriend goes viral, so what’s a girl to do? Flee to London for the summer, of course! Evie loves everything about London—the double decker buses, afternoon tea, history around every corner. Everything that is but having to stay with the person who’s hurt her most of all — her father. Desperate for a distraction from their contentious relationship, Evie spends her days wandering the historic streets ... where as though fate is intervening, she keeps meeting a charming and beautiful British busker named Aiden. Evie doesn’t want to open herself up again, but Aiden is funny, kind, and he never treats Evie like she’s too much. He may just be worth taking a chance on ... if Evie can keep her past from getting in the way of her future. Internationally bestselling author Elizabeth Eulberg pens an unforgettable journey that’s heartwarming, hilarious, and heavy on both romance and jetlag.

SALES POINTS:

- The international best-selling queen of romcoms returns with a super accessible, paperback original format!
- This deeply funny and romantic novel is perfect for Elizabeth’s existing fans as well as fans of Becky Albertalli, Lynn Painter, and Emma Lord.
- The London setting will appeal to Anglophiles everywhere, and our lovably feminist and big-mouthed protagonist will resonate with similarly outspoken readers.
- Take a Chance on Me explores perennial themes such as self esteem, difficult family dynamics, and disordered eating.

From the best-selling author of Sixteen Souls and Twelve Bones comes a thrilling graphic novel with a supernatural murder mystery twist. Sixteen-year-old Malia is popular, pretty and smart, but underneath her carefully crafted facade she's struggling with anxiety. When a school bus crashes, killing some of her fellow students, Malia is thrown into a further emotional spiral as she remembers the students; rebel and dropout Shepherd; volatile track star Russ; and brainy Emil. When Malia meets Keezy, the cute daughter of the local mechanic, the two begin to question the motive for the crash. As Malia and Keezy start to uncover secrets, Malia starts to see ghosts wherever she goes. How will Malia find time to flirt with Keezy when pursued by restless spirits ... what don't the dead classmates want her to discover? And will Malia ever find the courage to tell Keezy how she feels?

A nail-biting and perfectly formed thriller for the YA BookTok generation. This is SCOOPY DOO meets WIN LOSE KILL DIE. When hot 'it-couple' Brad and Shelley are brutally murdered in a Victorian mansion, a group of teen friends investigate. Set in a small town where rumour spreads as fast as the fire on the day of the killings, the theory is the old ghoul who haunts the house after his own murder hundreds of years ago has finally taken revenge. As Cam, Jonesy, Amber and new-girl Buffy investigate, the rumour feels closer to the truth than they ever dared think possible, and as they enter the mansion themselves, the idea of splitting up to find evidence will prove to be either the best ... or worst decision of all.

Finch Eaglehawk may seem like an average oddball with a taste for the dramatic and glam-rock musical numbers, but he has a secret. Finch is a PetWizard, with the ability to control the animal kingdom—well, the 'et cetera' category of the animal kingdom (think creepy-crawlies, not cute puppies). Though he loves his mole rats, bearded dragons, and boa constrictors, Finch yearns for more. With the help of his best friend, Aberdeen, a mysterious new kid named Erica, and an ancient PetMaster manual, Finch tries to learn how to own his powers and use them to help those in need, protect the vulnerable, and, most important, impress his crush, Ken Chu, the star of the upcoming school musical.

SALES POINTS:

- A goofy and hilarious graphic novel with bold coloured artwork, this inviting series launch is perfect for animal lovers and musical theatre aficionados.
- Fans of Dog Man and Captain Underpants will love this.
- Features bizarre yet relatable characters and off-putting yet cute critters, with offbeat humour.
- Themes of identity, fitting in, and being oneself.

Afia in the Land of Wonders

Written by
MIA ARAUJO

AFIA IN THE LAND OF WONDERS

AU RRP: $34.99

NZ RRP: $34.99

Author: MIA ARAUJO
 Publisher: SCHOLASTIC INC
 ISBN: 9781338856729
 Format: HARDBACK

Type: NOVEL
 Age Level: 9+
 Dimensions: 210 X 140 MM

Afia has always felt like half of a whole. Her twin sister, Aya, is perfectly happy with fulfilling their family's expectations of them. But Afia dreams of exploring the world beyond her secluded cliffside home of Dafra. She dreams of adventure.

When she meets a charming shape-shifter named Bakame, who dazzles her with promises of a magical land called Ijabu, Afia decides to take her destiny into her own hands. Although it will mean leaving everything she has ever known behind, including her beloved sister, Afia follows Bakame into the forbidden forests surrounding Dafra, from which no one has ever returned.

Filled with magical sights, a charismatic Queen and her intriguing court, Ijabu is everything that Afia has ever dreamed of. But she soon discovers that nothing is as it seems, and this fantasy world demands a terrible price. With the help of a mysterious trickster, Afia must evade the Queen's hunters and the lost dreamers of Ijabu, who wish to pull her deeper into their web.

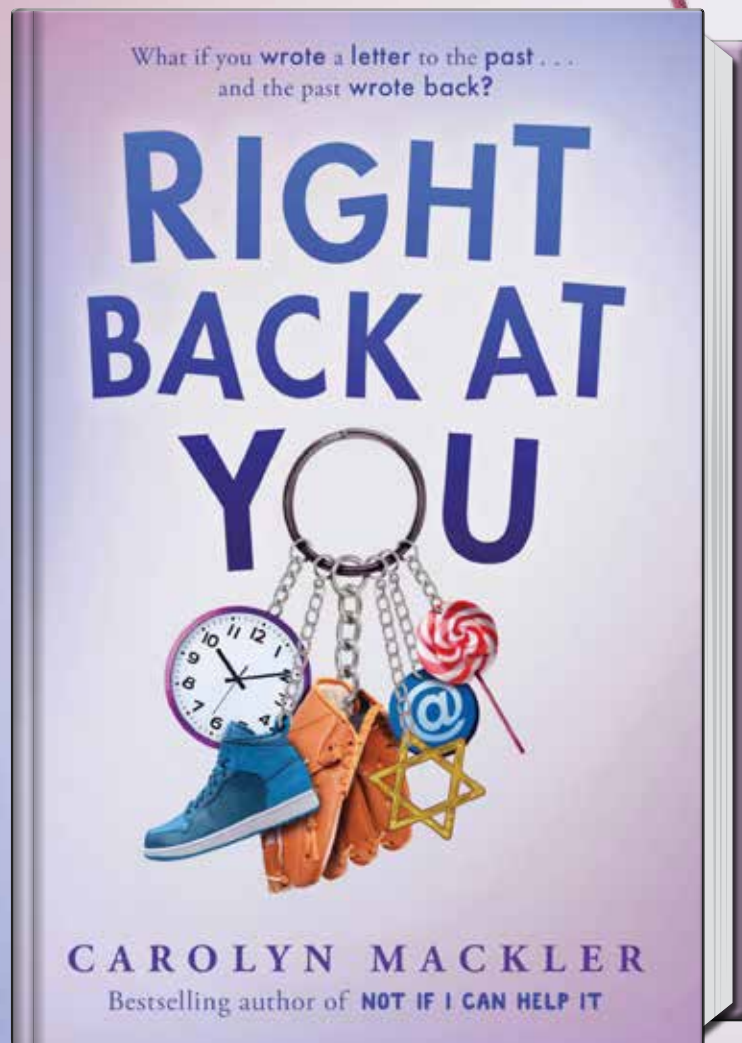

Now, Afia must find the courage to survive while standing on her own—or risking losing herself completely to the wonders of Ijabu.

Debut author-illustrator Mia Araujo weaves an extraordinarily luminous and beautiful story, inspired by Lewis Carroll's Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, about what it takes to find your true self, even if it means facing your deepest fears.

"Nothing short of an amazing adventure into a fantastic world, Mia Araujo has crafted a beautiful narrative, made all the more incredible by stunning visuals that overflow with heart and soul." – David F. Walker, Eisner-award winning author of Bitter Root and The Second Chance of Darius Logan.

SALES POINTS:

- Mia Araujo is a talented fine artist, whose illustrations have garnered her showings in prominent galleries and conventions across the United States and around the world, as well as the 2019 Juror's Choice Award at GenCon. Her art has also been published in numerous books and magazines.
- In Afia in the Land Of Wonders, Araujo modernises the classic story of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, while at the same time grounding it in the expansive histories and mythologies of West Africa of the 10th–16th centuries.
- Mia Araujo breaks out into the literary world with this extraordinary, luminous debut.
- This is a story for and about twins, a celebration of their special bond and an exploration of its complexities.

Living in a quiet village with their overprotective mother, teenaged sisters Calliope, Clio, Melpomene, Terpsichore and Thalia are talented performers with no audience. Then, following a disastrous public performance, their mother reveals a shocking secret: she is Mnemosyne, the Goddess of Memory, and for nearly two decades, she's been on the run from her fellow gods. Before she can share more, she is kidnapped! Under Calliope's leadership, the sisters embark on a journey to save their mother and learn more about their own divine origins. But they'll need to rely on both their individual talents and the strength of their sisterhood to ensure that they ascend from zeroes to heroes—or more accurately, heroines.

SALES POINTS:

- Penned by New York Times best-selling author, Farrah Rochon, this YA fantasy uniquely blends a twist on a Disney classic with a fresh take on Greek mythology.
- Mythological retellings are a booming trend within the young adult genre in the market, with this book perfectly positioned to launch onto shelves.
- With ties to Hercules, a cult classic Disney film, fans will be eager to learn more about the unexplored pasts of the five Muses.
